THIS YEAR'S THEME

It's not all about the money

Over the last few years, a series of economic crises swept through the international arena, leaving a trail of devastation in its wake and shocking the world into a new level of awareness.

This year, ISRAMUN will delve into the effects that these economic crises have had on our lives and on the relations between countries and organizations.

In addition to their roles in permanent UN committees such as SC, ICJ, ECOSOC, UNHCR, CSW and HRC, this year's delegates will have the opportunity to participate in two unique committees:

- * World Trade Organization - Participants in this simulation will thoroughly discuss today's most crucial economic topics.
- * Press Corps - Following last year's success, the Press Corps simulation will take a larger part in this year's conference. Participants will gain professional and practical media training and hear lectures from the best media professionals Israel has to offer.
